REASONS FOR ALLOWANCE

1. The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance: The prior art teaches the modification of polypropylene using peroxides which read on the structures of applicants' claims, but are not taught to increase either the melt strength or melt viscosity of the polymers. The specific choice of peroxide compounds used to produce these results in combination with the process required is not taught in the prior art nor are the resultant polymers disclosed. The prior art processes closest to the claims produce, in fact, the opposite effect. The claimed process and the produced polymers are, therefore, both novel and unobvious over the closest prior art as cited.

Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled "Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance."
